EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This Mobility manual outlines the rules and procedures for the applications, evaluations, selections and delivery of the mobility grants within the ENEN2plus (ENEN#) project.

The mobility grants are intended primarily for students and early career professionals (up to 10 years of experience), who are aiming to advance the knowledge, skills, experience etc., needed to enable or improve their nuclear careers. The web-based application is available at <http://mobility.enen.eu>.

Individual and group mobility actions are supported. For individual actions, the applicant proposes an individual work plan and the host institution. Recommended individual actions include internships (whether or not in preparation of a thesis), on the job trainings, study and/or research exchanges.

For group actions, the application, evaluation and selection process are handled by the organizers of selected events, approved by the ENEN# Mobility Committee. Recommended group actions include competitions (including award ceremonies), workshops, training courses, summer schools, training camps and conferences.

Mobility grants are in principle provided as lump sums directly to the selected applicants and are intended exclusively to cover mobility (transportation and subsistence) costs.

This version (Rev 2) of the Mobility manual will apply for applications starting from 31/03/2025 (Individual application batch 15) until the next revision of the Mobility manual becomes available.

1 INTRODUCTION

Development, construction, operation, decommissioning, waste management and oversight of safe nuclear facilities require personnel with excellent education, skills and motivation. The nuclear specialists are therefore equipped to work in multidisciplinary, multicultural and competitive environments.

Attraction of excellent new talents followed by outstanding development through Education and Training (E&T), cross-cultural and cross-disciplinary activities, are the overarching objectives of the ENEN# project.

ENEN# stands for the largest and most integrative nuclear Education and Training efforts up to date. Among others, it embraces a strong mobility program designed to support over 100 person-years of nuclear career enhancing experience of more than 1.000 learners. The mobility program builds on developments and experience in EURATOM projects ENENplus (ENEN+), the CINCH series, ARIEL and many others.

Cross-border and cross-disciplinary mobility within and beyond EU is supported in cooperation with JRC, OECD/NEA and partners from USA, Canada, China, Korea and Japan. Appropriate connections with the complementary OFFERR project facilitating access to research infrastructures are being developed.

This Mobility manual outlines the rules and procedures for the applications, evaluations, selections and delivery of the mobility grants.

Individual and group mobility actions are possible. The general rules that apply to all (individual and group) mobility actions are summarized in Section 2 General rules for ENEN# mobility and are followed by specific instructions for:

- Individual actions: The applicant proposes an individual work plan and the host institution. Recommended individual actions include internships (whether or not in preparation of a thesis), study and/or research exchanges. For further details, see Section 3.1.
- Group actions: The application, evaluation and selection process are handled by the organizers of selected events, approved by the Mobility Committee. Recommended group actions include competitions (including award ceremonies), workshops, training courses, summer schools, training camps and conferences. For further details, see Section 4 Group applications.

ENEN# will provide mobility grants intended exclusively to cover mobility (transportation and subsistence) costs. Mobility grants will be in principle provided as lump sums directly to the selected applicants.

Support for participation in on-line events is not among the primary goals of the ENEN# project. It will be made possible on a case-by-case basis at the discretion of the Mobility Committee (section 5.1).

This version (Rev 2) of the Mobility manual will apply for applications submitted on and after 31/03/2025 (Individual application batch 15) until the next revision of the Mobility manual becomes available.

2 GENERAL RULES FOR ENEN# MOBILITY

The mobility grants are intended primarily for students, researchers and early career professionals (up to 10 years of experience), who would like to improve their knowledge, skills and competitiveness for nuclear careers.

ENEN# reserves the right to accept or reject any request for grant without justification (at its sole discretion).

2.1 Eligibility Conditions

The following eligibility conditions must be fulfilled for every submitted application:

- Mobility actions must involve cross border travel¹.
- Applicant is either:
 - a citizen of an EU member state aiming for mobility anywhere but his/her member state of residence, or
 - citizen of any country aiming for mobility within EU².
- Compliance of the proposed activity with the objectives of the ENEN# project (action must be aiming to advance the knowledge, skills, experience etc., needed to enable or improve the nuclear career of the applicant).
- The supported nuclear disciplines include:
 - nuclear engineering and safety,

2.2 Criteria for evaluation

The fundamental principles used in the selection procedure are listed in the order of decreasing priority:

- Quality of the proposed mobility action (including better elaborated vision towards how this particular mission will contribute to enabling/improving the potential for the applicant's nuclear career).
- Proposed timeline and feasibility of the work plan and the requested duration of the mobility action.
- Applicant secured or was evaluated positively for the support for access to research infrastructures by other initiatives, including the OFFERR project, OECD-NEA NEST project or similar.⁴
- Mobility actions involving and/or organized by renowned institutions with recognized quality, such as members of ENEN, NUGENIA, EFOMP, SNETP, ENS and OECD/NEA and mobility actions envisioning contributions to the running Euratom (Horizon Europe) projects within the fields of this call.
- Less than maximum financing requested (e.g. priority to those who request less than maximum lump sums available for given activity).
- For training courses: the training course is announced on the ENEN website <https://database.enen.eu/>.
- Order of submittal of the applications (first come, first served).

³ Only for dedicated events organized by ENEN# or other Horizon Europe Projects (to be approved by the Mobility Committee).

⁴ This only applies for applicants, who are seeking to secure financial support for the access to research infrastructures from other (non ENEN#) sources. Completed arrangements with the host institutions, including access to the infrastructures needed, are one of the eligibility conditions for all applicants.

The detailed criteria and procedures for applicants and evaluators are described, if appropriate, in the subsequent sections of this Mobility Manual.

2.3 Legal conditions

All applicants will have to accept the following legal conditions at the time of submittal of the application:

Failure to submit the report will require the applicant to return the full lump sum.
- All arrangements for the mobility actions, including, but not limited to salary, insurance, access to the facilities, equipment, material costs and intellectual property have been agreed and resolved between the sending and hosting institutions. ENEN or ENEN# cannot support the related costs.

- Supervisor at receiving (host) institution. The role of this supervisor differs with respect to the format of the proposed mobility action:
 - For internships, on the job trainings and exchanges, the role of the receiving supervisor is to confirm that the applicant is welcome at the host institution with the proposed activity and timeline. The applicant is responsible to provide the necessary data on the supervisor (e-mail, name, affiliation, relation to the applicant).

Individual application will be submitted automatically after both supervisors will provide explicit consent/approval. Applicant will be informed by e-mail.

3.4 Reporting after completed activity

A written report needs to be submitted within 30 days after the completed mobility action or if the payment is received after the mobility action, within 30 days after receiving the payment in the web app (<http://mobility.enen.eu>). Failure to submit the report results in returning the grant in full.

The reports should be concise and should contain at least the following information:

- Your name.
- Sending and receiving institutions.
- Start and end dates of the mobility action.
- Summary of the work performed, including the level of the fulfilment of the work plan.
- List of publications that are at least in part result of the mobility action.
- Description of the positive outcomes of the completed mobility action.
- Note of any negative experiences of the completed mobility action as well as potential suggestions of how these could be minimized or avoided in the future.
- Statement on how the mobility action improved your knowledge, skills and competitiveness for nuclear careers.

Applicants are free to choose the format of the report.

An integral part of the end of activity reporting includes answering the questionnaire (Section 5.4), designed to facilitate the improvements of the mobility support in the future.

Applicants agree that their reports may be published (entirely or in part) within the dissemination activities of ENEN# project, e.g., on the ENEN# web site, on social platforms like LinkedIn or similar.

4 GROUP APPLICATIONS

ENEN# can provide limited support for group mobility, i.e. support for more than one learner attending a specific event. Such events could be organized by this or other Horizon Europe projects or by a renowned organization including ENEN, SNETP, Nuclear Europe (former FORATOM), EFOMP, ENS, and their members, or international organizations including JRC and OECD/NEA.

The application and selection process of individual beneficiaries of the mobility funds for such events is organized and managed directly by the event organizers.

Recommended group actions include, but are not limited to, competitions (including award ceremonies), workshops, training courses, summer schools, training camps and conferences.

4.1 For the individual applicants

The list of eligible events and the guidance to apply and provide requested information is available in the web app (<http://mobility.enen.eu>) under the entry „Individual application to group events“. Workflow is sketched in Table 5.

Please contact directly the organizer of the event that you would like to attend. The list of events for high school pupils and teachers is available in the ENEN# website <https://enen.eu/index.php/portfolio/enen2plus-project/>.

4.3 For the event organizers

The organizers of the candidate events may request group mobility support in the (<http://mobility.enen.eu>) under the entry „Application for group events“. The request should include the following details:

- Description of the event and its goals;
- Number of all expected and all supported attendees;
- Selection criteria and the composition of the selection committee for the beneficiaries of the ENEN# mobility support (should be fully in line with the General rules for ENEN# mobility and How to calculate mobility grants in this Manual).
- Budget: number of supported attendees and expected costs.
- Proposal of the event organizer for the reporting at the information level similar to the individual reporting foreseen in Reporting after completed activity.

The workflow of the application and evaluation process is sketched in Table 6.

The Mobility Committee will decide on the received request and inform the event organizer as a rule within 1 month.

Please note that the individuals seeking the mobility support in the approved group events will have to apply through the (<http://mobility.enen.eu>) under the entry „Individual application to group events“. Workflow for applicants is sketched in Table 5 Workflow of the individual application to group events.

In principle, the full grants will be sent to the individual beneficiaries based on the banking info (IBAN, name and address of the account holder) provided by the event organizer after completed selection process. Access fees are no more supported without an explicit approval of the Mobility Committee.

Only in the case that (part of) the attendees are expected to be younger than 18 years (e.g., high school pupils), the mobility grants will be transferred to the event organizer and not to the individual learners.

5.2 How to calculate mobility grants

The mobility grants are calculated as lump sums and cover exclusively the travel and subsistence.

In principle, the maximum grant amount calculations for both the individual and group applications are identical. In exceptional cases, the Mobility Committee may increase the maximal grants up to 150%.

5.2.1 Travel

The maximum lump sum for travel is 500 € and does not depend on the duration of the mobility action and length or mode of travel.

5.2.2 Access/registration fees

Access/registration fees are no longer not funded.

5.2.3 Subsistence

Maximum lump sums for subsistence depend on the duration of the action and are summarized in Table 8. The maximum lump sum grants for subsistence costs are calculated in the following way:

Days:

- 1-3 days. 100€/day.
- 4-6 days: 300€ + 50€/day for days 4 and above.

Weeks (1 week = 7 days):

- 8-14 days: full 1st week (500€/week) + fraction (e.g. (8-7)/7 of the 2nd week (350€/week).
- 15-21 days: full 1st + 2nd week (500€+ 350€)+ fraction (e.g. (15-14)/7 of the 3rd week (300€/week).

Months (1 month = 30 days):

- 22-30 days: full 1st, 2nd and 3rd week and a fraction (e.g. 22/30) of the 1st month (1.400€/m).
- 31-60 days: full 1st month (1.400€/m) + fraction (e.g. (31-30)/30 of the 2nd month (1.200€/m).
- 61-90 days: full 1st + 2nd month (1.400€ + 1.200€) + fraction (e.g. (61-60)/30 of the 3rd month (1.000€/m).
- Continue with full months + fraction of the last month.

5.5 Frequently Asked Questions

1. Can urgent applications be evaluated faster in order to respect the student's deadlines?

No. You are advised to take notice of the average time between the submission deadline and decision, which is about 4 months. The payments to the successful applicants are to be expected in about 3-4 months after the submission deadline.

2. Is it possible to request the mobility support for a mobility action in the past?

Yes, if the action started after June 1, 2022, and will end before May 31, 2026. Please note, however, that this is not an advantage in the evaluation of the application.

3. Are ENEN# mobility grants for longer mobility actions paid in monthly instalments?

No. All ENEN# grants are paid as lump sums in a single bank transfer to the account indicated by the successful candidate in the web application system.

4. Are medical expenses taken in account by ENEN# grants?

No. The mobility grants can only be used to cover the transportation and subsistence costs. Applicants are advised to consult their host and/or home institution to verify the status of their medical insurance.

5. Can ENEN# or ENEN AISBL provide acceptance certificates for student needing visa?

No. Candidates are advised to contact their host institution for this purpose.

6. Is it possible to change the dates of an accepted mobility action?

The mobility action has been accepted based on the data provided by the applicant. So, no changes can be accommodated after the acceptance. If a change occurs after the acceptance, the applicants are strongly advised to withdraw the application.

A new application, containing the same information and the new dates is started and can follow a short track for approval, providing the original application was accepted and only the dates were changed. The applicant should notify secretariat@enen.eu via email with 'ENEN2plus mobility change of dates – number of original application' as subject of the email.

7. My application was declined. Where can I learn about the reasons for this?

ENEN# will not disclose the reasons for declining a particular application.

Experience from the past ENEN+ project indicates that the most frequent reasons for declining the applications include:

- at least one of the reviewers disagrees on technical or scientific grounds;
- the topic of the application does not match the nuclear topic declared at submittal (e.g., studying radon effects in nuclear engineering);
- the topic of the application is outside of the scope of the ENEN# project;
- senior experts with already established nuclear careers cannot benefit from ENEN#;
- applicant requested 0 EUR or more than maximal mobility grant;
- proposed mobility action is not cross-border;
- both supervisors (from the sending and receiving institutions) are from the same organisation and/or country.

8. Can the same person apply for more than one ENEN# mobility grant?

Yes. The limitation is that each individual will be eligible to a maximum of one submitted application per rolling deadline. (see Table 9)

9. Can the ENEN# mobility grant be transferred to an account outside of the SEPA system (without IBAN number)?

Yes, but it usually involves substantial costs (e.g. taxes), which will need to be borne by the applicant, and longer transfer times are expected. In any case, the transfer will be made in Euro (€).

In case of multiple transfers, due to wrongfully provided information from the applicant to ENEN, all associated costs are to be borne by the applicant.
